

DOS SANTOS, ALFREDO, iASK

Alfredo Soares is a postdoctoral researcher affiliated with CEDIS (Center for Research and Development on Law and Society), Universidade NOVA de Lisboa, Portugal. He holds a PhD in Contemporary International Migration (Public Law) from Comillas Pontifical University, Madrid, Spain. His major research interest deals with global governance of forced migration, addressing its legal and socio-political dimensions, especially the "Responsibility to Protect" people forcibly uprooted in contexts of armed conflicts, effects of climate change and development projects.